

O. R. DICKEY'S GRAND AMERICAN HANDICAP.

The Boston Wingshot Captured the Big Event in the Shoot Off.

Handsomeness Daly Trophy Also Awarded to the Eastern "Dark Horse"

Eight Competitors Tied in the First Class, with Twenty-four Kills Each.

FOURTEEN MONIES WERE DIVIDED.

Excitement Quickened as the Contest Progressed, and the Results Were Not Determined Until Two Shots Off Were Held.

O. R. Dickey, a Boston marksman, who had been tipped as the "dark horse," is the champion of the "Grand American Handicap" of 1896, concluded at Elkwood Park yesterday.

Although the stocky little winner, who is manager of the Western, is a native of the City of Culture, has been an acknowledged expert in the art of smashing the elusive inanimate article and local records at the same time, which fact placed him at the 29-yard mark, his victory over the largest number of shooters who ever actually contested in a trap event anywhere in the world, came somewhat in the nature of a surprise to all but the few who, since his arrival in this city, had been quietly backing him as the lucky one.

But the Eastern crack did not have by any means a walk-over. He was one of eight who finished leaders with a score of twenty-four out of a possible twenty-five kills, there being, owing to the thoroughness of the handicapping and other prevailing conditions, not a single clean score made.

TIED IN THE FIRST SCORES.

There finished in the same "hole" with Dickey, Slim Glover, of Rochester; G. W. Canfield, the New Utrecht Gun Club crack from Brooklyn; R. O. Hoke, the champion inanimate shot, from Ohio; F. O. McManis, W. Cooper, E. F. Thomas, George Cumberly and C. Von Lengerke.

When the ties had been shot off under rules and out conditions they occupied just the relative positions given.

Thirteen men tied again for the added monies, credited with 23 kills each, and they, too, shot under similar conditions to decide positions, as there could be under the rules only fourteen awards of money.

It did not take long to reduce the bunch to the six successful ones, T. F. Eley, of Bannockburn, Pa., securing ninth place on the prize list; B. Le Roy, tenth; John G. Messner, ninth; James Hood and Fred Gilbert falling in the order named.

By a previous arrangement, however, the men in each class had agreed to divide equally their chances, of the prize purse, and as a result the first eight, split up $1357.00, each receiving as his share a check for $240.70, while the other six received an equal share each of $152.31, or $57.57.

WON THE DAILY TROPHY.

In addition to his cash prize, Dickey received the magnificent $500 silver Elkwood Park trophy, presented by Messrs. Phil Daly, Sr., and Phil Daly, Jr. There was no deduction from the prizes of the shooters, the birds killed in the ties being furnished free by the association.

Of the sixty-seven men who again took up the contest in the Grand American Handicap, only eleven had clean scores when they went to the traps yesterday morning. Though the wind blew from the same direction—over the contestants' backs—as on the two previous days, and the snow had almost disappeared, the birds were not quite so strong or fast. But still, as by one, the ambitious shooters were disqualified by the unlucky third miss.

In the very first round of the day—the eleventh—Nate Ostfok, Mosher, E. B. Harris, Hunter, Grey and P. J. Clark dropped out.

R. Smith, Cunningham, Disbrow, George Corning, Jr., and McPherson went bad in the next. Knowlton, Lathan, Plaster and Hoyt fell victims to the fateful thirteen and in the next were joined in oblivion by Burkhardt, Mayhew and Flick.

In the fifteenth H. T. Brown, Morgan and Gates failed of their aim, and Justice Von Lengerke, Billy Lath, Merrill and Timmons wasted two barrels each in the next.

Reers was the low man to fall in the seventeenth round, as was Lindsay, the discoverer of the wood powder process, and husband of "Wanda." In the following, the nineteenth sent "Old Boss" to the stable with Freddie Moore driving into town, followed by A. S. White and Tom Morley, winner of the event in 1894.

By this time things were narrowing down sufficiently to become interesting, and signs of excitement on the part of the clean score men, who had been long reduced to five, became evident. "Another victim" was the remark uttered as Watson went out with the rapidity of an arc light.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS.

Wynne, Woodruff, Dutton, Frank Gloss, Hank White and Du Bray dropped together in the twenty-first round. When it came to his turn, Upson followed suit.

CLEAN SCORES BEYOND HOPE.

The excitement was now intense, and the betting fierce. All the shooters, however, had been wiped out gradually, eight were struggling for first place, with one missed each scored and close behind them with one more, stood 15.

Down went Ewald in the twenty-fourth, as did Dr. Van Zile, and the hopes of the Brooklyn contingent, which were upon him and Coulston. All the rest killed in the twenty-fifth and last round, in the order first mentioned.

The postponed events, the Sportsman's Handicap and the Frenchport Spentstake, were completed, and others will be shot to-day. The scores follow:

The Grand American Handicap—Twenty-five birds, $25 entrance—Birds extra, not class shooting, handicaps 25 to 33 yards, $1,000 guaranteed by the Interstate Association and all prize money.

Five hundred and silver cup to first high gun, $200 to second high gun and $200 to third high gun.

All money in the purse in excess of the $1,000 will be divided 12, 22, 22, 10, 10, 5, 5, 5, 5, 5 and 5 per cent to the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth highest guns—149 entries.

TROTTING SALE CLOSES.

Trotters That Showed Speed and Form Sold Well—Many Went Ridiculously Cheap.

Horsemen in moderate numbers attended the Madison Square Garden sale yesterday, and although the original intention was to make the sale a four-day one, by pressing matters everything was cleaned up at a late hour last night. The majority of the offerings were of ordinary order, while a few drivers of attractive quality elicited fair bids.

Jack and Gill, a neat pair of Canadian carriage horses of the cob pattern, were purchased for $200 by John Lewis, of New York, and George Rensen, who bought Winnie H. 2:10 1/2, on Wednesday, secured the well-known champion gelding, "Chimney," at $240. The Philadelphia mare Dixie, 2:28 1/2, showed more speed than any animal in the sale, and went to H. T. Phillips, a Brooklyn resident, at $470.

Stormy Mist, a five-year-old gelding, by Bayonne Prince, also showed promising speed, and was gathered in by J. S. Ferguson, New York, at $550, and as a rule everything that was well favored in form and speed and conditioned to show well, brought fairly good prices. These sold for $300 and over:

Jack, Jr. G. and Gill, blk. m., said to be by Landlord, John Lewis, New York, $500.
Cummer, b. g., by Chimney-Lacy Shelby, by Shelby Chief, G. Benson, New York, $340.
Luka George, b. g., by Chimney-Lacy Shelby, by Walburn, J. H. Feroe, New York, $340.
Dixie (2:28 1/2), b. m., by Alton-Bureka mare, H. T. Phillips, Brooklyn, $470.
Stormy Mist, b. g., by Bayonne Prince-Morning Glory, by Hapoy Medium, J. S. Ferguson, New York, $550.

SEAWANAKA TARS DINED.

Admiral Erben the Guest of Honor at the Annual Feast.

The annual dinner of the Seawanaka-Cordonian Yacht Club was held at Delmonico's last night. Admiral Erben, U. S. N., was the guest of the evening and was introduced by J. Kennedy Tod, who officiated as master of ceremonies. The table was arranged in the shape of a horseshoe, the floral centerpiece being a fan-tulle of the insignia of the club—a ship's wheel, across which the blue pennant with a cross of white stars floats.

No toasts were announced, but the glasses clinked merrily in response to the salutes and pleasant speeches of Messrs. Tod, Erben, H. E. Brown, J. W. Miller, C. H. Leland, C. W. Weimore, S. L. Cromwell, W. C. Kerr, H. F. Noyes, E. M. Townsend, and others.

Among those present were J. K. Tod, Admiral Erben, J. L. Ward, William E. Iselin, Oliver E. Cromwell, J. W. Miller, C. H. Leland, C. W. Weimore, S. L. Cromwell, W. C. Kerr, H. F. Noyes, E. M. Townsend, and others.

In the fourth Pfeiffer touched off a scratch single and J. Bentley Seymour exploded a double in the next. This was the sum total of their stick work. The trio of rallies that fell to the Giants occurred after Mr. Bowen, who seldom looks at second base, attempted another highly emotional lesson in the art of deceiving basemen.

Seymour and Kager, with Foster in the cage, gave up the best they had in defense of the regulars, but nothing could stop the terrific onslaught of the colts. They seemed victory in the air and in the way J. Bentley squinted in vain for the plate.

What the youngsters lacked in hits Seymour more than made up in bases on balls, wild pitches and other lapses. In round the colts landed three hits, the untamed state of Mr. Seymour's delivery being responsible for four runs. Kager also had the base on balls habit, five failures resulting from his work in one round.

The brief appearance of Clarke in the ranks of a losing team shows what experience and a steady "noddle" can do in the baseball world. Cannon ball speed and college records are all very well in their way, but they need a season or two in the big league to give them the requisite tone.

Connahogue was moved to the outfield, where he performed with great ability, taking his place at short. Wilson played second base for the colts and Foster short on the first team. Zearfoss is daily doing to the good impression he made on his first appearance as a backstop. This colt says he knows nothing about the game, but is willing to learn, thus making the task for the teachers a cheerful one.

At the matinee the regulars trotted out Flynn and Foster, the champion plug-out battery from Richmond, Va. Flynn made an excellent showing. He worked the changes on his speed and curves and was admirably supported by Foster. But three of the colts managed to hit the ball safe.

Seymour flung a gap at second, here he made a brilliant catch on the catch trying to tag base runner. The juniors were seated in the points by German and Wilson, to the satisfaction of the management, Kager taking the place of German in the last two innings and pitching nice ball.

The day was perfect for the business, and all hands were in the best of form. Adam Stanhope, of Harlem, was sent home to-day in a broken package. An infraction of the rules led to the indefinite suspension of the colt catcher by Manager Irwin. Last night, while suffering from an attack of vertigo, Adam tried to butt one of Jacksonville's infrequent trolley cars off the track. He now has holes in his hatch that let in the sunshine and the rain.

DAD GAVE COLTS A HAND.

Clarke's Pitching Gave the Junior Team a Decisive Victory.

Allowed the Veterans Not a Single Hit in the Six Innings That He Filled the Box.

SEYMOUR LOST THE SECOND GAME.

Fine Weather at Jacksonville Gave the Giants a Grand Chance to Show Form—Stanhope Sent Home for Breaking Rules.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 26.—Four lightning double plays, bits of brilliant fielding by Tiersan, Connahogue, Gleason, Battam and others too plenty to mention, and some up-to-date twirling by young Mr. Flynn and the more remote Clarke, were a few of the absorbing features of a very busy day.

Two games were played, both of which did the participants proud.

Let it be recorded that the colts have walloped their teachers. They turned on the enemy early this morning and put them in the dead wagon to the tune of 9 to 3. But after the mid-day feast the youngsters lost their nerve and fell back again into the slough of despond at the tail end of a 10 to 2 score, and all this time the sun was shining.

Just to show what an old hand at the business can do, Irwin put Dad Clarke in to pitch for the colts in the morning game. In three straight contests the Oswego man had shut the juniors out, and he treated his former associates to a similar dose. Through six exciting innings Dad passed his justly celebrated mixture across the plate, but the regulars could do nothing with it.

In the fourth Pfeiffer touched off a scratch single and J. Bentley Seymour exploded a double in the next. This was the sum total of their stick work. The trio of rallies that fell to the Giants occurred after Mr. Bowen, who seldom looks at second base, attempted another highly emotional lesson in the art of deceiving basemen.
